

JULIANNA LOZADA

(661) 289-0496 | juliannalozada19@gmail.com

RELEVANT EXPERIENCE

Freelance Reporter, Various Publications | Los Angeles, CA

July 2022 - present

- Published 50+ stories across Southern California News Group papers and Beverly Hills Courier, covering local governance, community activism and resilience, and emerging policy issues while developing an extensive network of sources spanning diverse communities throughout Southern California and frequently contributing high-quality photographs for stories
- Southern California News Group
 - Publish weekly local-interest stories at the intersection of community and politics covering Los Angeles, Pasadena, and San Gabriel Valley communities for LA County's largest news content provider across 10 newspapers, including community rebuilding efforts in Altadena following Eaton fire
- Beverly Hills Courier
 - Produce comprehensive coverage of Beverly Hills municipal governance and community news

Research Assistant, Institute for Global Affairs - Eurasia Group | Remote

October 2024 - April 2025

- Developed social media strategies and executed campaigns with the Senior Digital Media Manager for various platforms, including Instagram, Threads, X, LinkedIn, and Facebook
- Drafted social media copy to promote non-resident fellows' research
- Supported podcast production with scripting, archival research, and interviewing guests

Media Services Assistant, Columbia Journalism School | New York, NY

September 2023 - May 2024

- Managed equipment inventory and scheduling system supporting broadcast journalism students for eight hours per week
- Maintained detailed records of equipment status and usage
- Provided technical support for using audio/video production and live broadcasting equipment

Staff Writer, The Proclaimer - Radio Free SCV | Santa Clarita Valley, CA

June 2021- July 2022

- Published profiles of local activists and political candidates for region's only independent newspaper
- Covered 2022 local midterm elections, including city council, congressional, and state races

EDUCATION

Dual Bachelor of Arts Degree Program

May 2024

Columbia University, School of General Studies, New York, N.Y., USA Dean's List.

B.A., Human Rights with special concentration in Sustainable Development.

Sciences Po Paris, Reims, France

B.A., Politics and Government. European and American track with specialization in International Relations.

Columnist, Columbia Daily Spectator

- Reviewed Morningside Heights restaurants in my weekly column "Morningside Bites" for the Columbia Daily Spectator, the premier news source for the Upper West Side, Morningside Heights, and West Harlem.

Staff Writer, Columbia Political Review

- Contributed editorial pieces on AI and media trends

Staff Writer and Editor, Continents, Columbia Undergraduate Human Rights Magazine

- Contributed semesterly feature articles on contemporary human rights issues relating to climate change and displacement
- Provided two rounds of edits throughout the writing process for four staff writers
- Managed article pitches with editors and EICs prior to each volume

Oral History Editing Intern, INCITE

- Edited 20+ oral history transcripts for the "I See My Light Shining: Oral History of Our Elders" project, using the Columbia University Center for Oral History Transcription Guide
- Assisted project managers in administrative tasks, including metadata summaries, ephemera uploads, and time codes

Misc.

- Jose Rizal Scholastic Achievement Merit Award (2020)
- Columbia Daily Spectator Summer Fellow (2022)
- "Outstanding Staff Writer" Award - Columbia Political Review (2024)

TECHNICAL SKILLS

- Languages: English, French (B2), Tagalog (conversational)
- Content Management Systems: WordPress, Substack, Wix
- Editing/Graphic Design: Canva, Audacity, GarageBand, Descript
- Social Media Platforms: Instagram, X, Threads, LinkedIn
- Microsoft Office Suite (Excel, Word, PowerPoint) & Adobe Creative Suite
- AP & Chicago Style Writing